More than anywhere else in the country, Bangkok expresses Thailand's uncanny ability to blend the old with the new. This lends a thrilling sense of discovery to one's sightseeing and adds an element of surprise when exploring what is the Orient's most fabled city.

11:35 PM Arrive Bangkok, Thailand - one of the most "Oriental" cities in the Asean World. Formerly the fabled Kingdom of Siam, Thailand earns its reputation as "the Land of Smiles".

At 8:30 AM you will be met by your guide in the hotel lobby. Today you will be visiting temples where you will have to frequently remove your shoes and observe temple dress (arms and legs must be covered).

This morning visit Wat Pho (Reclining Buddha) in time to experience the monks early morning chanting ritual (chanting starts at 9:00 AM). Also, it was the first open university of Thailand which offered courses in several branches of knowledge like literature, astrology, medicine and massage.

Continue to The Grand Palace, Thailand's most important landmark, where you will be awed by the grandeur and majesty of the building and its throne halls. Note the detailed ornamentation. The Royal Chapel is Thailand's most important and sacred Wat.

Marvel at the mysterious Wat Phra Keo (Emerald Buddha), the most revered Buddha image in Thailand. The exquisite temple contains an image of Buddha carved from a single piece of jade.

Pause for lunch at a local restaurant. Cost of lunch payable directly to the restaurant.

This afternoon visit Wat Arun, 'Temple of Dawn'. This monumental 86-meter Khmer-style prang, one of the largest religious monuments in the country, towers above the Chao Phraya to form Bangkok's most impressive and famous landmark. Wat Arun symbolically represents the Buddhist universe, with its trident-capped central tower indicating Mount Meru and the four smaller towers depicting the four worldly oceans. Reflective beauty comes from thousands of multi-glazed Chinese porcelains embedded into the structure by Buddhist devotees.

This evening drive through Bangkok's old quarters where you will see the beautifully illuminated Grand Palace, the Royal Ground, temples and the lit-up Rajdamnoen Avenue.

Explore the Flower Market where you will see numerous varieties of exotic orchids and sweet smelling flowers. The buzz in this market is best experienced at night during which busy vendors load their wares up and down their mopeds.

DAY 07 KANCHANABURI/AYUTTHAYA

Meals included: Breakfast

At approximately 9:00 AM depart the River Kwai Jungle Rafts for Ayutthaya.

Enroute visit Hell Fire Pass Memorial Museum, a 500-meter long and 26-meter deep section of rock that was dug out by Prisoners of War intended to allow the 'Death Railway' to continue its route from Bangkok to Yangon (Myanmar). Soldiers were forced to remove the rock using no more than picks, hammers and their bare hands. Of the 1,000 Australian and British soldiers who took 12 weeks to clear the stretch of mountain, 700 died. The Hellfire Pass Memorial and Memorial Museum were set up to commemorate those fallen.

Continue to Ayutthaya with a stop at a local restaurant for lunch en route.

Ayutthaya was founded in 1378 by Ramatibodhi, an ambitious Thai prince from U-Thong who transferred his capital south to escape a smallpox plague. Ramatibodhi soon invited Sri Lankan monks here to reinforce Theravada Buddhism and maintain religious purity. If Sukhothai was the kingdom of love, Ayutthaya was the kingdom of war. Armies were raised, campaigns launched, and by the end of the 14th century Ayutthaya controlled Southeast Asia from Malacca to Angkor. Ayutthaya fell to the Burmese in the 16th century but was quickly restored by Naresuan the Great, one of Thailand's most revered military heroes.

Ayutthaya was burnt to the ground and tremendous art treasures, museums, countless temples, priceless libraries, and historical archives were destroyed - an act of horror which still profoundly shocks the Thais.

Upon arriving in Ayutthaya you will have some time at leisure for you to explore.

At the Kantary Hotel Ayutthaya reservations for a Studio Suite have been confirmed for this evening.

The white marble memorial across the small white bridge honors Chulalongkorn's first queen, who tragically drowned in full view of her entourage. At the time of the 1881 incident, royal law demanded death for any commoner who dared touch royalty.

Enjoy lunch at Mog Fha Waterfall. You will have an opportunity to swim. Afterwards continue your journey to Huay Nam Dung National Park.

This is true adventure travel and not for the faint-of-heart. Trekking, hiking, exploring this region requires time, patience and total flexibility. Your journey to this part of the world is a voyage into one of humanity's deepest mysteries.

A number of the villages are unaffected by the modernized world as we know it – their daily life totally dependent on the environment – no luxuries of 24 hour electricity, vehicles, grocery stores, plumbing, etc.

Your journey will be an experience in primitive lifestyles that truly begs the question of what is civilized. Explore, experience and be overwhelmed by some primitive civilizations. Be open and be enriched. Portions of your walks/treks will be strenuous. You will have to sacrifice your creature comforts as the lodging and food are SIMPLE. This is an ideal time to use a mosquito tent and your own sleep sheet.

At Shan Village begin a 1 ½ - 2 hour trek through the jungle. Visit a Karen village and interact with the local villagers.

Enjoy dinner at the village.

Founded in the 10th century by Thai commanders as the first independent principality in northern Thailand, Chiang Saen was later destroyed by Khmer forces and re-established by King Mengrai in 1259. It was then abandoned in favor of Chiang Mai but revived in the 14th-century by Mengrai's grandson, a devout Buddhist who constructed most of the existing stupas and chedis.

This interesting town has numerous ruins of temples, chedis, city walls and other remains from the Chiang Saen period. There is also a small museum. Across the river from Chiang Saen is Laos, while 7 miles further north, at the point where the Sop Ruak River meets the Mekong, is the official apex of the Golden Triangle.
