GUIDE

What to Pack

During the spring/summer months (March-September) 73F-91F with high humidity. Bring an umbrella, rain jacket, lightweight breathable clothing, a sweater/shawl, swimwear and comfortable walking shoes.

During the fall/winter months (October-February) 62F-73F with lower humidity. Bring sweaters and light jackets.

A few articles of formal attire for those nights out on the town.

An English to Cantonese dictionary electronic or book format can prove to be a valuable source.

The standard electrical voltage is 220 volts AC, 50HZ so an adapter is necessary as well as a three-prong outlet plug.

An extra suitcase to bring home your newly acquired purchases.

MISC.

Hong Kong is a fashion-designer conscience city and everyone dresses smart, chic and conservatively. The dark muted colors are favored amongst the locals, so you may wish to follow suit to avoid looking like a tourist.

As many establishments are quite cold indoors due to their air-conditioning, it's wise to always carry a shawl or sweater with you to fend off the chill.

Many restaurants have dress codes or at least you must be smartly dressed and well groomed for entry.
